Refunds

As a signatory to the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students, the school is required to have a fee refund policy. This is part of the school's enrolment contract with students. The policy needs to be aligned to The Education Amendment Act (No 4) 1991; The Fair Trading Act 1986; The Consumer Guarantees Act 1993. Refunds will be made in the following circumstances:

- If an application for refund is made before the student starts the course – full payment of tuition fees minus NZ$100 administration charge to cover costs incurred by the school.
- If an application for refund is made after the student starts the course but before the second half of the course, fees will be refunded less an administration charge of $450; costs to the school already incurred for tuition; components of the fee already committed for the duration of the course, including appropriate proportions of salaries of teachers and support staff, costs already incurred for the use of facilities and resources; the proportion of the Government levy the school is required to pay and any other costs already incurred.
- If the school is unable to provide the course requested by the student and agreed on in the school's Offer of Place.
- Refunds will be considered if an application for refund is made after the second half of the course has begun in exceptional circumstances such as family bereavement, illness or other family circumstances which require the student to return permanently to the home country; serious illness of the student. In these circumstances students who are insured may have the balance of the fees reimbursed by the insurer. The school will only consider the balance not provided by the insurer.
- Refunds will not be considered if the student is expelled or excluded from school; if the student acquires permanent residence status after having enrolled at the school as an international student.
- No refund when enrolment is withdrawn by the school.
- No refund when passport status has been changed to permanent residence.

An application for refund of fees must be made in writing. The application must be made to the Board of Trustees. The application must explain why the student has withdrawn from the course and reasons for seeking a refund. Documentary evidence to support the claim should be provided. (Note: the administration charge is separate from the administration processing fee payable on enrolment).

Personal Information and the Privacy Act (1993)

The Privacy Act 1993 protects the information you give the school and details conditions under which personal information can be obtained, used, stored and exchanged with other interested parties. The school collects personal information from its students so that they can be enrolled at the school, have their attendance and progress recorded, be entered for examinations, or be contacted by the school. The school also collects information about the caregivers of the student so that they may be informed of student progress or contacted by the school, and because the safety of the student is important.

Personal information may be disclosed to other education agencies, such as the Ministry of Education and the New Zealand Qualifications Authority; and to Government agencies such as the New Zealand Police if they demonstrate a statutory right to obtain it. Personal information may be retained by the school after the student leaves in order for the school to maintain a list of past students. Personal information may also be disclosed to the Darfield High School Parent Teacher Association to assist in compiling its membership register.

Under the Privacy Act 1993 you have the right of access to all personal information held by the school about you. You also have a right to ask the school to correct any information held which is inaccurate. You can exercise that right by applying to the school. You also have an obligation to advise the school if/when any of the personal information you have provided changes. If for any reason your enrolment is not accepted, this enrolment form will be destroyed.

Code of Practice

Darfield High School has agreed to observe and be bound by the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students published by the Minister of Education. Copies of the Code are available on request from this institution or from the New Zealand ministry of Education website at <http://www.minedu.govt.nz>
